

Residents have right to be upset, worried

To the Editor:

In regards to the soil tests that were done in the Falconbridge area two years ago and how the people of Falconbridge are now reacting to the new test results.

Two years ago the Sudbury and District Health Unit did not show up at our doors on the same day that the letters were typed out. Come on, when was the last time you ever saw the medical world move that fast? Wouldn't that scare you?

We have a right to be upset and worried about our children, family and friends in our town. I love my town and I don't want to leave, but my children come before anything else.

I hope that everyone involved does the right thing and not let profit get in the way of life. Our townspeople deserve to live a long healthy life and I hope I'm around to see many of the kids in the area grow up.
